In observance of National Domestic Violence Awareness Month, Attorney General Jim Hood and the AG's Bureau of Victim Assistance honored nine outstanding law enforcement officers with an award Thursday for their response to a domestic violence situation in their community, including a Hancock County deputy. "Domestic violence calls are some of the most dangerous calls to which our law enforcement respond," General Hood said. "Unfortunately, domestic violence is a problem in Mississippi, and we've lost too many people to it—including officers. This recognition is a small way for our staff to let these deserving officers know that we appreciate their commitment to protecting our families and communities."

The following officers, who were selected from nominations received from across the state, received an award during a luncheon with General Hood:

- Mark Alison, Hancock County Sheriff's Office
- Avery Farish, Ocean Springs Police Department
- Chris Ballard, Long Beach Police Department
- Jonathan Blakeney, Jackson County Sheriff's Office
- Kevin Egan, Ocean Springs Police Department
- Kevin Johnson, Moss Point Police Department
- Mike Krebs, Ocean Springs School District
- Shannon Koss, Jones County Sheriff's Office

Additionally, an overall award was given to Captain Penny Jones of the Vicksburg Police Department. Jones received this honor after multiple nominations were submitted on her behalf, stating that her "ongoing leadership and dedication and initiative to victims has earned the respect of her peers and she has become a role model in the field of domestic violence." Jones, who has served at the Vicksburg Police Department for 19 years and is also a victim of domestic violence, released a moving video to raise awareness of domestic violence by informing the public of the signs and statistics of domestic violence and how to get help. "I want to be the voice for the victims when they can't help themselves," Jones said. "Considering that I've been a victim myself, I know that there is help and that there is a way out."

"Domestic violence affects both women and men of every race, every religion. We can't continue to stay silent," said Vicksburg Police Chief Milton Moore. "Domestic violence can be so easy for people to ignore, especially if it's not happening to them. If we take a stand and work together by speaking out against domestic violence, we can help change attitudes and show that domestic violence is a crime that will not be tolerated in our society. Captain Penny Jones has played an intricate part in assisting victims of domestic violence

All three Waveland mayoral candidates and six of the 10 candidates for the city's four alderman positions convened at city hall on Wednesday to take part in a political forum hosted by the Hancock County Alliance for Good Government. The forum, moderated by Joseph W. Gex, II, included three rounds of questioning from a panel of local journalists, including Doug Walker of WLOX, Doug Handshoe of Slabbed News Media and Geoff Belcher of the Sea Coast Echo. The candidates for aldermen went first, answering questions on a wide variety of topics including commercial development, subsidized housing, beautification, utilities, drainage and preservation of live oaks. The mayoral candidates addressed most of those issues as well, and spoke about their respective visions for Waveland's future. Incumbent Mayor Mike Smith, a Democrat, said he is running for re-election because he has dedicated the past 31 years to the city and because he wants to "finish the projects I started." He touted his record over the past four years, which he said includes increasing

Children's author Tommy Greenwald speaks to students at Holy Trinity Catholic School about writing

STORY AND PHOTOS BY CASSANDRA FAVRE
STAFF WRITER

Playwright and children's book author Tommy Greenwald on Thursday presented his "Guide to Writing Books about Real Life" to students at Holy Trinity Catholic School. He is the author of the "Charlie Joe Jackson" series; the "Charlie Joe Jackson" spinoffs; and the "Crimebiters" series. "There are a lot of kids who don't love to read," Greenwald said. "That made me want to be an author." Greenwald told the students he "loved" to read as a kid, as did his wife. "For two people that love to read, we had three kids that didn't love to read," he said. Greenwald added that getting children to read can be a long, tiring, frustrating, and challenging process. He said he used several tactics including bribery and taking away electronics and not much worked. "One day I had an idea," Greenwald said. "We just haven't found the right book." Greenwald said he had never written a book, but wanted to write something "silly and funny." "It's never too late or early to decide to be a writer," he said. His first book was "Charlie Joe Jackson's Guide to Not Reading." Greenwald named the main character after his sons. He told students that he writes realistic fiction; "made up events that could happen in real life." Since the first book, Greenwald has written five more "Charlie Joe Jackson" books and well as three spinoff books. When the family dog Moose passed away, Greenwald and his family searched on www.petfinder.com to rescue a dog. Abby soon moved in with the Greenwald family, as did the inspiration for his next series, "Crimebiters." "Abby would sleep all day and stay at night," Greenwald said. "Just like a vampire." Thus, Abby the superhero crimefighting vampire dog was born. In addition to discussing the books, Greenwald also described the publishing process. Once he finishes the first draft, he sends it to an editor. Then he will need to rewrite the book, based on the editor's recommendations, he said. "The most important part is the rewriting process," Greenwald said. He also explained how to write in a first-person narrative and using the events in your life for inspiration. "Writing is absorbing the world around us and turning it into something for everybody," Greenwald said. Greenwald answered students' questions and also signed copies of his books. Candidates speak at judge’s forum

BY GEOFF BELCHER
NEWS EDITOR

Concerned voters packed into the Leo Seal, Jr. Meeting Room at the Bay St. Louis- Hancock County Library on Thursday for the Community Leaders Forum. The candidates for the 8th Chancery Court District, Place 3, spoke, including Judge Margaret Alfonso, attorney Dianne Ellis and the incumbent Judge Sandy Steckler.

The event was sponsored by the Hancock County Democrats and the Diamondhead Democrat, Progressive & Independent Alliance in cooperation with the Hancock County Library.

Ellis spoke about her history of working in family courts and on behalf of children. She said she is also a registered nurse.

"I don't have the experience behind the bench" that Alfonso and Steckler have, she said, "but I love the law. ... I want to be chancellor because I care about the families and their children and the parents."

She said the youth courts are currently "backlogged" and she feels she has the right set of skills to make the system work better for everyone.

Alfonso, who held the Place 3 senior judge's position before Steckler, said she stepped down for a time to go back to being a youth court judge.

She was the first woman in the history of Hancock, Harrison and Stone counties to be elected to that position before going back to youth court.

"I have dedicated my life to child protective services and have been working in protective services since 1976. She said that she wants to get CASA (Court-Appointed Special Advocate services) involved in the chancery court system in order to help the children. She also wants to form a family drug court system district-wide.

"There needs to be a change and there needs to be some new energy," she said.

Steckler said he served in the state senate before getting back into the chancery court system, where he has served for 17 years.

He said he prefers serving in chancery court because the judge makes the decisions, not the jury, and he enjoys helping families through the "heart-wrenching" court process. He said he wants to start a "brain trust" of judges and attorneys to help streamline the family court process.

The non-partisan judge's election is scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 6.

During the Annual Barbecue, members of the Hancock County Republicans announced they will sponsor a Memorial Star in memory of long-time party leader, Dr. Andy Martinolich. The Memorial Star is a program of the Bay St. Louis Heritage Trust, chaired by Chet LeBlanc, under the Hancock Community Development Foundation. George Williams, chairman of the Hancock County Republicans said the star will be placed on the public sidewalk near Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church in Bay St. Louis. Diane Martinolich Wilkinson and her husband Chris were there for the unveiling and accepted a proclamation from Governor Phil Bryant proclaiming October 20th as Dr. Andy Martinolich Day in Mississippi in memory of his decades of leadership to the Republican Party. Dr. Andy, as he was fondly called, followed local and national politics, serving for many years on the Executive Board of the Hancock County Republican Party as well as the state Republican Executive Committee and travelled as a delegate to the 1984 Republican National Convention in Dallas. He dedicated his life to his family and helping others through his medical practices. He was active in civic activities bringing the first hospital to Hancock County and was one of the founders of the Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission. He was an active parishioner with OLG Catholic Church serving as president of the school board and as a member of the Knights of Columbus. He was also a member of St. Stanislaus Alumni Association and was inducted in to the Hall of Fame. As one of the founders of SMB Radiology, which served Gulfport Memorial, Hancock General and Garden Park hospitals, he was Chief of Staff at different times for these hospitals during his medical career. Donations to support the Martinolich Memorial Star can be made to the Hancock Community Development Foundation, 100 South Beach Boulevard, Suite A, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520.

NASA Selects Additional Small Business Proposals for Competitive Research and Development

SEA COAST ECHO

NASA has selected an additional 10 research and technology proposals – valued at $7.5 million for Phase II of its competitive Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) program.

The new selections include one project supporting Stennis Space Center.

STTR supports NASA's future missions into deep space and benefits the U.S. economy. Selected proposals will support the development of technologies in the areas of aeronautics, science, human exploration and operations, and space technology. The awards are for small companies partnering with research institutions from across the country, including New Jersey, Alabama, Indiana, Illinois and California.

The awards cover a breadth of research and development needs. In each instance, small businesses have partnered with research institutions for their projects.

The newly selected STTR project supporting Stennis Space Center is:

“Electrical Power from Thermal Energy Scavenging in High Temperature Environments,” developed by Physical Sciences, Inc. of Andover, Maryland, and Purdue University of West Lafayette, Indiana.

NASA selected an initial 20 proposals for Phase II development in August, two of which supported Stennis. All proposals were selected according to their technical merit and feasibility, in addition to the experience, qualifications and facilities of the submitting organization. Additional criteria included effectiveness of the work plan and commercial potential.

Only small businesses awarded Phase I contracts are eligible to submit a proposal for a Phase II funding agreement. Phase II is focused on the development, demonstration and delivery of the innovation. Phase II projects are chosen as a result of competitive evaluations and based on selection criteria provided in the Solicitation. Phase II contracts last for 24 months with a maximum funding of $750,000.

Small businesses have created approximately 55 percent of all jobs in the United States since the 1970s. The STTR program encourages small businesses and research institutions to develop innovative ideas that meet the specific research and development needs of the federal government. The program is intended to stimulate technological innovation in the private sector, increase the commercial application of research results, encourage participation of socially and economically disadvantaged persons and women-owned small businesses, and foster technology transfer through cooperative research and development between small businesses and research institutions.

The STTR program is sponsored by STMD and managed at NASA's Ames Research Center in California's Silicon Valley. STMD is responsible for developing the cross-cutting, pioneering, new technologies and capabilities needed by the agency to achieve its current and future missions.

They include Spanish Acres Subdivision, the 300 block of deMontluzin Street, Jackson Blvd., at Felicity St., Corinth Drive at Dunbar Avenue, and Highland Drive. It is important for parents to be with their young children when they are out trick-or-treating and also that they observe traffic and stay safe.

Cuevas' quotes

We are ALL speeding toward eternity

One of the neatest things you will ever see is the widespread cleaning of graves and cemeteries on All Hallows' Eve. That's right. That's the real Halloween. On the following day, the November 1 Feast of All Saints is even more spectacular. In the Deep South, especially in places like Acadiana, the members of some churches celebrate an All Saints Mass right in the cemetery. I was deeply pleased to witness such a Mass celebrated in my native Lake Charles, 200 miles west of New Orleans.

New Orleans, of course, has to go one up on most folks. Many in the Big Easy still practice the tradition of visiting the graves of dear ones on November 1, the Feast of All Saints. And visit they do! Some come with camp chairs, blankets, water, New Orleans-style red beans and other foods that they like with the soft drinks of their choice. Then they settle in for a relaxing family visit with their beloved ancestors. It is one of the most calming and inspiring sights that I have ever seen.

In one case, after celebrating an All Saints Day Mass with some Sisters of the Holy Family at Saint Augustine Church, the home of their founding, on November 21, 1842, most of us second-lined to Saint Louis No. 2 Cemetery where their foundress, Venerable Mère Henriette Delille, is buried. Once there, we witnessed some folks eating, drinking and visiting at the graves with their deceased relatives. It is crystal clear that New Orleanians run their daily lives straight into their faith in God and into their faith in the resurrection of the dead. Their faith in the resurrection of the dead is also portrayed in the New Orleans Jazz Funeral. Yes, we are living our daily lives with red bean gusto, but we are speeding toward eternity.

The fascinating history of New Orleans, both fact and legend, is rife with tales both verifiable and not that continue to add to the mystique of the city which turned 300 on May 7, 2018. With all its alluring geography, high-profile slave market and auction block, Spanish and French rule, the eye-popping exploits of Jean LaFitte and his Barataria Bay hangout, and African-Haitian Voodoo that has insinuated itself into some of the fabric of New Orleans, the lure and lore of the city only increases.

Of course, many tour guides embellish much of the historical information they claim to share. That goes doubly and triply for the tour guides who specialize in tales of the supernatural, using the backdrop of night as a spine-tingler. Ironically, New Orleans does not need any juiced-up history to be interesting. Without embellishment, it is nonetheless fascinating and legendary.

To a lesser degree, in pockets throughout the South, one finds traces of the New Orleans culture, including the African-Haitian Voodoo. The famous traiteurs (French for treaters or healers) would also find their roots in the Voodoo medicine men or healers. These were the same Voodoo medicine men with whom the famed Marie Laveaux collaborated as healers among the people.

Our Christian/Catholic take is a bit different. Indeed we do believe in the science of natural medicine, and we appreciate the power and efficacy of alternative medicine that, under given circumstances and patient needs, can be a preferable form of treatment. Finally, we do believe in the supernatural healing invested in certain people that defies any rationale or human explanation. The revelations of Edgar Cayce, "the Sleeping Prophet," seem to be the foremost example of this.

Beyond such healings, we also believe in the Communion of Saints in which we interact with each other as branches of Jesus, the True Vine (John 15).

Nathaniel Narcisse "Papite" Petrie, my mother's father, worked for years as a lumberjack in the cypress swamps around Lake Charles, Louisiana, cutting choice cypress wood for sundry items of construction. When asked who woke him up at 3:00 o'clock in the morning to go the cypress stands, he would invariably point up and answer, "They do!" That unmistakable reference highlighted Papite's simple, firm belief in the Communion of the Saints, through which

DEER HAVE ANTLERS, NOT HORNS

In many deer camps throughout Mississippi, it is not uncommon to hear someone refer to a white-tailed buck's headgear as "horns." In reality, those "horns" are actually antlers.

Horns are made of a bony core covered by layers of keratin. They are slow growing and permanent and are usually grown by both sexes. Horns grow in yearly rings which may be an age indicator.

Antlers, on the other hand, are made of fast growing bone and are shed every year (except in rare cases). Antlers are usually grown by males and are branched instead of singular like a cow horn.

set of antlers during the first 1.5 years of their life and generally that first set of antlers is spikes. Young deer are growing rapidly during this time and most of their nutritional intake is used in muscle and bone development. In cases where young deer have excellent sources of nutrition, it is not uncommon for a 1.5 year old deer to have 6 or maybe even 8 points.

A white-tailed buck's antlers begin to grow around June. During this growing period the antlers are covered in a soft skin, which is called "velvet." The velvet is made up of blood vessels which supply calcium, phosphorus and protein to the growing antlers. By October, they are usually completely formed and are no longer growing. When this occurs, the blood vessels begin to dry up, and the velvet begins to detach.

Bucks speed up this process by rubbing their antlers on trees. This rubbing process also helps to polish antlers and strengthen the buck's neck muscles for the rut.

A white-tailed buck's antlers generally increase in size with each year of his life, dependant on availability of food and nutritional intake. After about 4.5 years, a buck's body will stop growing and almost all nutritional resources will go into antler development. If a white-tailed buck is allowed to mature to this age, this is when he can really grow an impressive "rack." Bucks in the wild

NELSON CARTER CHURCH PAUL A. HUSCHLE

NELSON CARTER CHURCH 1943-2018

The sparkle of Mardi Gras royalty is dimmed by the passing of legendary designer N. Carter Church on October 19, 2018. An artist and designer in the many fields of fashion, costume and interior design, Church was presented the Lifetime Achievement Award from Fashion Group International, following over a hundred other awards presented by the group, for his almost six decades of design work for the fashion industry. While known primarily for his Mardi Gras designs for the royal courts of Louisiana, Mississippi Gulf Coast and Alabama, Church created bridal, debutante, and special occasion clothing for children and women throughout the country, including Carol Charming, Sandy Duncan and Elizabeth Taylor. As a leader in the Mardi Gras industry of the South, Church never tired of the heady pace of the short season of revelry. He was an active participant of the Royal Courts having been selected as King for many of the Krewe's for whom he designed. His career in art began with early water-color classes with his grandmother evolving to attending the Parsons and Traphagen Schools of Design in New York where lie was introduced to the work of Remain de Tyrtov (Er-te') whose work was the major influence in Church's design graphics. Design was his passion, but Church was also a patron of the arts, civic activist, and leader of cultural activities in his earlier home of New Orleans and later in his much loved, adopted home of Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi, where he assisted with the opening of the city's Mardi Gras Museum in the historic depot for all visitors to have a bit of Mardi Gras pageantry and excitement. Church is survived by his spouse and business partner of 33 years, Yancy L. Pogue of Bay Saint Louis and his sister, Martha Church Frank, Bay Saint Louis. He was preceded in death by his parents, Nelson Cellar Church and Martha Earhart Church and his sister, Carole Church Grout, all of New Orleans. There will be a celebration of life to honor Church at a later date. In lieu of flowers the family prefers donations to the HCTC Mardi Gras Museum, 1928 Depot Way, Bay St. Louis, MS 39520 or Friends of the Animal Shelter, P.O. Box 2274, Bay Saint Louis, MS 39521-2274

St. Stanislaus plunders Pirates 24-7

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

The St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws and the Pass Christian Pirates renewed their rivalry on a crisp gridiron Friday night 'between the walls' at the Brother Phillip Memorial Athletic Complex. The night also marked Senior Night for the Rocks as they dispatched the Pirates 24-7. The victory improved the Rocks' advantage in the series to 24-16-3.

Pass Christian opened the game on offense but two pass break-ups by Rock linebacker John Gregory forced a punting situation.

The Rocks (5-5, 4-1) took over on their own 20 yard line but scrappy defense by Matthew Stubbs also forced a punting situation for SSC.

After a shanked punt by SSC, the Pirates took over on the Rock 36 yard line. Three plays into the drive, Trace Rhodes stepped in front of a Kameron White pass and returned the pick 50 yards to the Pirate nine yard line. Two plays later, Brandon Bordelon scored from three yards out with 6:23 left to play in the opening quarter. William SSC running back Brandon Bordelon breaks free from Pass Christian defensive back Andrew Moffat for a 42-yard gain in the Rocks' 24-7 victory over the Pirates. Bordelon finished the game with 246 yards rushing on 27 carries.

Weber's PAT made the score 7-0.

Pass Christian (1-9, 0-5) took over on their own 31 yard line following the ensuing kick. Gordon Ward ripped off carries of six and five yards but the Pirates were forced to punt the ball away.

Each squad traded possessions twice before Weber took aim on a 37-yard field goal which fell short leaving the halftime score 7-0.

The Rocks opened the second half on offense. Bordelon appeared to take the ball to the house on the first play from scrimmage; however, a blind-side block was flagged behind the play and the touchdown was called back to the Pirate 38 yard line.

Bordelon picked up another seven yards on the next play. The Rocks were flagged for holding on the third play from scrimmage which brought the ball back to the Pirate 43 yard line. SSC quarterback Max Favre found Dallas Payne for a gain of 16 yards through the air which was good enough for a Rock first down.

With a new set of downs, Bordelon had a gain of two yards before he broke free on the next play for a gain of 23 yards down to the Pirate two yard line. Bordelon scored on the next play from two yards out with 8:44 left in the third quarter. Weber's PAT made the score 14-0.

On the Pirates' first play from scrimmage following the kickoff, Ward ripped off 15 yards and what would have been a first down but Trustin Northington and Blake Bilich ripped the ball loose and Davien Legarde recovered the ball for SSC near midfield.

After gains of six and five yards from Bordelon, an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty on SSC forced a punting situation. After the punt, an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty on Pass Christian backed them up to the Pirate 17 yard line.

Damonta May ripped off a run of 15 yards to the Pirate 32 yard line. On the next play, May weaved his way into the defensive backfield of SSC and it was off to the races with May finding the end zone 68 yards later with 5:51 left in the third quarter. Davon Klein converted on the PAT to make the score 14-7.

Following the ensuing kickoff, Bordelon chewed up 22 yards on the first play of the drive to bring the ball near midfield. The Rocks alternated the ball between Bordelon who had gains consecutive gains of 12 yards and Favre's arm which tossed aeriels to Chris Smith for a gain of four yards and to Payne for five yards. Weber came on and nailed a 37-yard field goal with 1:54 left in the third quarter to make the score 17-7.

Following the ensuing kickoff, Pass Christian began to pick up chunk yards on May's gains of five and three yards. Ward ripped off eight yards fol-

Seniors lead Hawks to 21-14 victory over Biloxi

BY DWAYNE BREMER
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

The 2018 football season has not gone the way the Hancock Hawks had expected, but on Friday night, the Hawks seniors were determined to ensure it ended in a memorable way.

Led by a stingy and opportunistic defense, the Hawks defeated the Biloxi Indians 21-14 in the final road trip of the season.

"I'm just so proud of this team and their effort tonight," Head Coach Neil Lollar said. "The seniors deserved this. They overcame a lot of adversity this season and put it all together tonight."

The Hawks jumped on Biloxi early when they took advantage of two Indian fumbles.

The first was caused by Trenton Ladner and recovered by Tanner Lemon.

Two plays later, Jordan Fouchee raced around the left corner for a 29-yard scoring run.

The point-after was blocked.

Two plays later, Lemon recovered another fumble at the Indians' 24.

scored from five yards out.

Austin Hyde added the point-after to give the Hawks a 13-0 lead.

Defense dominated the remainder of the first half.

Midway through the second quarter, Biloxi drove inside Hancock's 30, but Colby McGough made a big tackle on a fourth-down play to stop the drive.

Biloxi got back in the game in the third quarter behind the running of quarterback Tristan Pearson.

Pearson ripped off runs of 15, 9, and seven yards, as the Indians drove 74 yards for their first score of the game.

Pearson ended the drive with a one-yard quarterback sneak for a touchdown.

After a three-and-out by the Hawks, the Indians dipped into their bag of tricks and scored on a double reverse pass.

On the play, wide receiver Mondre Stewart took the pitch and tossed a perfect pass to Jervin Smith for a 38-yard touchdown. The point-after gave the Indians a 14-13 lead with 3:41 to play in the third quarter.

An interception stopped the Hawks' next dive and Biloxi moved the ball to midfield before the Hawks' defense made a big play, stripping Pearson of the ball, which was recovered by Tyler Kapp at the 43.

Hancock then dipped into their bag of tricks and made the play of the game.

Senior Quarterback Caleb Garcia handed off to Blake Comeaux who pitched it back to Garcia, who then threw a 57-yard bomb to Senior Peyton Miller for the go-ahead touchdown.

"I knew I was going to score when the play came in," Miller said. "We had not taken a shot all night. When I saw the ball coming towards me, it was perfect. I knew I was going to catch it."

Comeaux ran in the two-point conversion to give the Hawks a 21-14 lead with 10:35 to play.

Biloxi's next drive was thanks to a big third-down stop by Senior Christian Holder.

Biloxi was able to force a punt on the Hawks next drive, by Hawks senior punter Nicky Palisi touched off a booming 55-yard put to back the Indians up to their own 20.

The Hawks defense forced another three-and-out when McGough swatted away a third-down pass.

The Hawks took over at their own 12 with four minutes to play.

Three plays later, Sebastian Faucett converted a critical third down with a 13-yard run.

Comeaux then ended any hopes of an Indians comeback with six consecutive carries for 27 yards and two first downs as the Hawks ran out the clock.

Comeaux finished the game with 84 yards on 19 carries.

"I wanted the ball;," Comeaux said. "I only have so many carries behind my brothers left. I know they would block for me and I would get the yards to win the game."

Senior Gabe Singleton said that he will remember how his teammates fought for the victory.

"It has not been a great season, but a win is a win," Singleton said. "We fought hard for each other all night long."

Fouchee collected 62 yards rushing and Benard added 55 more in the contest.

Pearson led the Indians with 80 yards on 20 carries.

The Hawks will finished their season next Friday with when the hope Pascagoula.

"I want to give our coaches a lot of credit tonight and for a great week of planning," Lollar said. "Everyone worked their butts off this week. I'm proud of all of our players and coaches."

Bay High disappointed on Senior Night, falls 28-21

BY HUNTER DAWKINS

Despite the Bay High Tigers' accounting for near 300 yards total offense and forcing multiple turnovers, mistakes at crucial positions in the game and penalties caused them to drop their final game of the season against the Moss Point Tigers 29-19. Bay loses the outside chance to be in the MHSAA 4A playoffs in 2018.

"We had our opportunities and didn't capitalize," said Bay High Head Football Coach Ben Foreman. "After we put ourselves in position, some crazy penalties would bring us back."

The Bay High Tigers (1-9, 1-4) jumped on the scoreboard first, after senior defensive end Kameron Taylor recovered a fumble stalling the Moss Point drive and ran it 61 yards for the first touchdown. Once Bay High kicker Dawson Kotsakos put the extra points through the uprights, the score was 7-0 Tigers of Bay St. Louis' lead with 5:23 left in the first quarter.

Moss Point went on their first lengthy drive, accounting for 11 plays, but were eventually stopped by the stingy Bay Tigers defense. The turnover on downs was at 1:02 left in the first.

Initially, the Bay Tigers were forced to punt, but after a shallow kick, Moss Point lost the fumble with 10:26 left in the half. Then, Bay forced a ten-play drive which got nothing after Kotsakos missed the 30-yard field goal with 6:20 left.

Both teams switched possessions before Moss Point quarterback Ruben Lee found a wide-open receiver Chanton Millender down the left sidelines for

Volleyball Players of the Week

The Hancock Lady Hawks Volleyball Player of the Week is senior Chloe Swilley. During the week, Chloe helped the Lady Hawks advance to the Class III state tournament for the third consecutive season with a sweep of Oak Grove High School (25-22, 25-11, 25-20) on Tuesday. In the game, Chloe tallied 16 kills and nine points.

The Our Lady Academy Crescents' Volleyball Player of the Week is senior Lizzie Mirandy. During the week, Lizzie helped OLA reach the Class I state finals with a quarter-final victory over Puckett (25-3, 25-16, 25-17) on Monday and a semi-final win over St. Andrew's Episcopal High School (25-15, 25-27, 20-25, 26-24, 15-10) in five games on Thursday in Oxford. During the week, Lizzie recorded 14 kills, 17 digs, 39 serve receptions, nine points, five aces and three blocks.

OLA makes seventh consecutive state final

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

The high school state volleyball playoffs are winding down and the local area is very much in the discussion again in 2018.

The Our Lady Academy Crescents, the state's most successful volleyball program, needed five games on Thursday evening at The Gillom Center on the campus of The University of Mississippi in Oxford to dispatch the Lady Saints of St. Andrew's Episcopal High School. The Crescents (24-16) advanced to their seventh consecutive Class I state final and 16th overall with a 25-15, 25-27, 20-25, 26-24, and 15-10 victory.

OLA head coach Mike Meyers commented, "We had a really tough night against Saint Andrew's. To their credit, they played much better against us than they did earlier in the season. However, we made many, many unforced errors throughout the match. We found ourselves down in a very deep hole, and to our players credit, they were able to dig out and pull out the victory. So, hopefully, that is out of our system. We now play a very good and much improved Resurrection team in the finals for the third year in a row. We will have to be at the top of our game to beat them. We will be ready for them."

The scores of the game indicate just how tight the match really was with St. Andrew's; however, the Crescents dug deep in the fourth game as they were down 20-9 and rallied for a 26-24 win that propelled them to the victory.

In the game, OLA was paced by Ashley Bulot with 50 assists and 15 points while Rebecca Walk had 38 kills, six blocks and seven digs. Alma Hearin tallied 21 points, seven aces and 10 digs and Camille Cottone had seven points and six kills. Margaret Spencer White added six kills while Lizzie Mirandy had nine points, nine kills and 11 digs.

On Monday, the Crescents swept Puckett

25-3, 25-16 and 25-17 to punch their ticket to Oxford.

Meyers stated, "This is a nice win against a program that we are not familiar with. Puckett had performed well all season and came in with an outstanding record. I thought we played well at times but we always played with a lot of energy and were very aggressive. I am very thrilled for our two seniors - Lizzie Mirandy and Margaret Spencer White - who played the last home match of their career. They are two outstanding young ladies and we are very proud of each of them."

Against Puckett, Rebecca Walk led the way with 24 kills followed by Camille Cottone with 22 points, eight aces and seven kills. Alma Hearin added 10 points and four aces while Ashley Bulot contributed 37 assists.

Hancock (22-10) played their Class III state semi-final match against DeSoto Central on Friday evening. They were swept 24-26, 20-25 and 13-25. Hancock head coach Rick Rechten stated, "We had our opportunities but didn't capitalize when we needed to. We could have closed out set one but didn't. DeSoto Central has a good team that practices year around and that puts us at a disadvantage. Our girls gave their all tonight but it just wasn't enough. We are going to miss this group of Seniors!"

In the state semi-final match against DeSoto Central, Hancock was led by Chloe Swilley with 10 kills and 18 serve receptions followed by Reagan Huff with nine points and Jena Stallings with eight points.

The Hancock Lady Hawks punched their ticket to Oxford and their fourth consecutive state tournament with a sweep of Oak Grove on Tuesday. The Lady Hawks topped Oak Grove 25-22, 25-11 and 25-20.

Rechten added, "When we were focused in the match, we played very well. Oak Grove looked the best they have all season against us tonight. They are a scrappy team. We are happy to be going back to the Final Four."

In the match, Hancock was led by Swilley with 16 kills and nine points followed by Maleah Austin with 11 kills and eight points. Huff added eight kills and seven points while Bella Thoennes recorded eight kills. Lyric Johnson had 10 points and Stallings tallied eight points. Harleigh Lafontaine ended with 33 assists.

Today, OLA and Resurrection will meet for the third consecutive time in the state finals at 2pm. OLA is seeking their 13th state title in volleyball having won titles in 2002-03, 2006-09 and 2012-17. See you at the game!

Pearl River Community College Welcomes Wildcats Home for Homecoming 2018

BY ALEX KENNEDY
PRCC COMMUNICATIONS SPECIALIST

Pearl River Community College celebrated homecoming Saturday, Oct. 20, with a dedication, luncheon, carnival, and celebration of championships.

Mrs. Verlène Cole of Oak Grove was honored with the dedication of the Pearl River Community College Alumni House being named in her honor. Mrs. Cole has been a long-time supporter of PRCC.

"Verlene Cole is one of those people that you know when you meet her that she is going to put her heart and soul into making your cause a success story. She is one who takes the lead in any project that we do through the College Foundation and Alumni Association. Verlene's passion and determination exemplifies and gives meaning to what the 'Spirit of the River' and the 'Wildcat Way' means to so many of us," said Mr. Ernie Lovell, Executive Director of Development Foundation/Alumni Association.

Cole spoke at the dedication about the importance of getting involved and remaining connected to PRCC. "If you attended PRCC for just one semester you are an alumnus and I encourage you all to become an active member," said Cole.

The celebration continued with the annual homecoming luncheon where four athletes were inducted into the PRCC Sports Hall of Fame. This year's inductee class included Ashely Grater of Poplarville, Lindsey Lee of Bay St. Louis, Ed Porter of Bay St. Louis, and James Singleton of Chicago. These individuals were honored for their outstanding athletic achievements, success, and Wildcat spirit.

Dr. Jason and Shannon Estep of Poplarville received this year's Distinguished Service Award for their contributions to PRCC and the community. The Esteps provide scholarships to nine PRCC students annually. Shannon is a 2003 graduate from the college's Associate Degree nursing program.

This year's Alumnus of the Year is Mrs. Glenda Floyd Robbins. Mrs. Robbins has established the Donald K. Robbins Scholarship in her husband, Mr. Donald K. Robbins' memory. She is a member of the College Foundation board and is active with the Marion/Jeff Davis Alumni Chapter. Mrs. Robbins attended Pearl River Community College from 1963 to 1965.

After the luncheon PRCC's baseball team was recognize and presented with their 2018 State Championship rings. The presentation included words of appreciation and encouragement from Head Coach Michel Avalon and PRCC President, Dr. Breerwood.

The college's annual homecoming carnival was a success with local community members and their children as fun jumpers, face painting, and more were enjoyed.

The 2018 Homecoming queen and her court were presented at halftime of the game and sophomore, Cammie Moree of Sumrall, was crowned homecoming queen.

The theme of PRCC's 2018 Homecoming was "All Roads Lead Home" and the college hopes all alumni remember that PRCC will always be a home to come back to.

lowed by White's gain of five yards. Ward, however, fumbled on the next play and Bilich recovered the loose ball at the Rock 45 yard line.

On three straight plays, Bordelon found daylight and ran through it for gains of eight, 45 and five yards. The last play went for a touchdown which was Bordelon's third of the game. Weber's PAT made the score 24-7 with 9:01 left in the game.

Both teams shared a possession to run out the clock and the regular season.

Pass Christian head coach Casey Wittmann commented, "The players fought hard tonight as they have all year. We started a freshman at quarterback tonight and he played well at times. Then, at other times he showed his age. In time, Kameron White will be a very good player for us. I thought Damonta May ran hard for us in the second half and made some plays. Injuries have mounted up for us and at one time we had six freshmen playing in different places. The future looks very strong for Pass Christian."

May rushed for 91 yards on four carries and had the Pirates' lone touchdown. Xavion Page also had one reception for 35 yards.

SSC first-year head coach Nate Encraper, who has his team hosting a first round playoff game next Friday, stated, "Brandon Bordelon ran the ball very well for us tonight. We expected him to be able to do that and he was aided in that effort up front by Nathan Hale, Ronnie Aleman, Sam Carter, Chris Smith, Alex Rimmer, Joe Bradford and Nathan Cox. His decision making with the ball in his hand was much more decisive in the second half. That helped with our success tonight. We still left a lot of plays on the field tonight. We have to correct that because as we go further, it will get considerably tougher to get yards. That is also a credit to Pass Christian and head coach Casey Wittmann. It is always a dogfight when these two teams play. Casey always has them motivated and ready to play. Now, we have to turn our focus to Northeast Lauderdale in the playoffs next week."

The Rocks were led by Bordelon who had 246 yards rushing and three touchdowns on 27 carries. Favre was 10-for-18 passing for 76 yards.

SSC advances to the Class 4A state playoffs for the sixth year in a row and the 15th time since 2002. The Rocks will host Northeast Lauderdale, the #3-seed from Division 5-4A, in first round action next Friday 'between the walls' in Bay St. Louis. Northeast Lauderdale (6-4, 3-2) fell to West Lauderdale (10-1, 5-0) 41-0 last night. Kickoff is set for 7pm. See you at the game!

an 81-yard touchdown strike. After the Moss Point Tigers converted a two-point conversion with 1:55 left in the half, the new score was 8-7.

The hosting Bay High Tigers orchestrated a 14-play drive until the half, only to end it with no points and an 8-7 Moss Point lead.

As they have been fighting to the end all season, the Bay Tigers received the ball in the second half and went on a four-play scoring possession, as quarterback Josh Peters threw a 41-yard touchdown strike to Khaleb Leavens.

Since the two-point conversion failed, the scoreboard showed a 13-8 lead.

Shortly after, Moss Point safety Carlos Matthews went 50 yards on a fake punt. The extra point was converted, making the new lead 15-13.

Bay High returned the favor, racing in a jet sweep from senior receiver Maxwell Lewis for a touchdown. Once again, the two-point conversion failed, updating the score as 19-15 Bay High.

Bad field position left the Bay Tigers an unorthodox punting motion, where Moss Point got the ball near the red zone. Moss Point Tiger elusive quarterback Keandre Booker used a hole in the corner to stretch in an early fourth quarter score. After the extra point was put through the uprights, the lead switched again at 22-19 Moss Point with 11:40 in the game.

Finally, the nails hit the coffin, as Leavens fumbled on the first possession. Booker drew off this turnover with a seven-play drive, optioning in from two yards out for a touchdown. When the extra point was kicked through with 9:04 left in the game, this became the final score at 29-19 Moss Point.

"We talked all week of the importance of this game, as I have been with all of these seniors since they were in seventh-grade," said Foreman. "I didn't want this to be their last game and these seniors have left a great foundation for the younger kids."

The Bay High Tigers could have clinched a playoff with a 7-point win, however this will end their season. Moss Point finishes third in the 8-4A district.

It's always best to "dress for success" on any fishing trip. It really pays to bring rain gear on board.

Dress for the occasion

SHORE THING FISHING REPORT

by Capt. Sonny Schindler

You should always buy the best when it comes to two things: rain gear and toilet paper. Both items should be well engineered, because they should never fail when you really need them. Myself and Captain Kenny Shiyou fished in the rain ALL day this past Tuesday. We always give our customers the option to reschedule, under those conditions. When we saw them suiting up in full rain gear, we knew they were all in! It wasn't a torrential downpour, rather a steady mist or drizzle. Had ourselves and our crew not been wearing the proper rain gear, that fishing trip would have been just plain miserable. Waterproof Jackets, bibs, and rubber boots kept us dry, and for the most part, pretty comfortable. The redfish, black drum, speckled trout, and flounder were already wet, so they didn't mind biting our hooks. Looking back, it was a really fun trip. Sure we could've done without with rain, but sometimes you gotta play the hand you're dealt. Big thanks to the 3 generations of Hobart men, from Starkville, MS for braving the elements with us. As always, have fun and be safe.

DeLisle Elementary celebrates achieving 'A' status in state ranking 4th grade teacher Margaret Pavolini can't contain her excitement as principal Mandy Lacy presents her with an "A" lanyard pin.

SEA COAST ECHO
Last school year, DeLisle Elementary principal Mandy Lacy challenged her staff to "Strive for 25" additional school accountability points. Not only did they rise to the challenge, they far surpassed it by skyrocketing 72 points above the previous year's score earning the school a prestigious A rating.

"I can't say enough good things about the instruction that took place last year along with the accountability level to which we held our students," remarked Lacy. In recognition of the staff's steadfast commitment to excellence, Principal Lacy and Assistant Principal Kristen Wheat made surprise visits to each classroom. Blasting the song "Celebration", Lacy and Wheat offered each staff member delicious snacks and presented them with gold "A" lanyard pins. According to Lacy, "They were all very appreciative. Students were equally as excited for them. They clapped, gave hugs and thanked them for being their teacher. It was really sweet!" Special thanks to Roger Hudson, grandfather of 3rd grader Mia Clare Lacy and owner of Cyclone Coins, for generously donating the lanyard pins.

3rd grade teacher Rosalind Cuevas is all smiles as she selects a tasty treat from the snack cart.

Bay St. Louis Little Theatre will present 'Shadowlands'

SEA COAST ECHO

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre will open its next season show "Shadowlands" by William Nicholson on Nov. 9.

It is the true story of C. S. Lewis, the English author of "The Chronicles of Narnia" and his American wife.

The play was adapted to a movie starring Anthony Hopkins and Debra Winger. The movie won the BAFTA Award for Best British Film and Best Actor in 1993. Roger Ebert of the Chicago Sun-Times reviewed the movie "intelligent, moving and beautifully acted."

The relationship of C. S. Lewis and Joy Davidman has been the subject of many writings. At first glance, they were an unlikely couple: C. S. Lewis, a distinguished author and Oxford scholar, and Joy Davidman, a Jewish-American divorcee, converted Christian, mother of two, and former Communist Party member. But together they walked through life's challenges, persevering despite their faith tested in the face of suffering and death.

This amazing true story reveals the many events that occurred in the lives of two astounding Christians to bring them together and sparks their love for each other. There are tender moments and darkest hours where faith is shaken to its very foundation. More than a biography and more than a love story, this is a moving tribute to a couple whose faith, hope, and love grew through adversity.

The show is directed and produced by Cheryl Grace. Jen Coulter is assistant director. The cast includes Robert Newton, Clayton Pennylegion, Cheryl Grace, Michael LeBeau, Paul Bernard, Jim Codling, Terry Cullen, Jim Fraiser, and Linda Allen. Jen Coulter did set design and construction. Emma Rabalais is manager of sound and lights. Volunteer coordinator is Rachel Anderson. Sound effects and promotion is done by Clayton Pennylegion.

Show dates and times are Nov. 9, 10, 16, 17 at 8 p.m.; and Nov. 11 and 18 at 2 p.m.

Doors open one hour before the show and seating starts 30 minutes before each show.

Tickets for the show can be purchased online at www.bsllt.org or purchased at Lulu's at 126 Main Street or Twin Light Creations at 136 Main Street.

Ticket fees are $18 adults, $10 Seniors 65+, veterans, military, and students with ID, and $8 for children 12 and under. Seat reservations can be made by calling 228-467-9024 or email the Little Theatre.

This handsome chap is Fudge, a 1 year old Labrador Retriever mix, who has the most remarkable personality to match his stunning good looks. Fudge has unique golden eyes and a reddish brown coat that must be seen in person to fully appreciate. He has the best smile, and is super calm. This loveable boy is quite the gentleman, too. He sits for treats, walks like a champ on a leash and harness, and is cooperative when kenneled. While we're not sure if he's house trained, he has yet to have an accident. Fudge loves kiddos of all ages, and goes "belly up" for a tummy rub soon after meeting a new friend. Speaking of new friends, Fudge never meets a stranger, whether it be a human or a doggie friend. He loves to play, especially tug-o-war, and would enjoy an active lifestyle with lots of interaction with his family. He is a love bug, so his new family should expect to give this boy lots of hugs and kisses, which he gives very abundantly. If you are a single person, couple, or active retiree, then Fudge will be your new BFF. If you're seeking a trusted family pet, then look no further. You have found "the One." Please visit the shelter at 7175 Texas Flat Road, Kiln, to meet this gentle, big boy. You will fall in love with him. Call 228 466 4516 for more information, and visit our Facebook page, Hancock County Animal Shelter, MS, to see more pictures of Fudge, and of the many other wonderful, adoptable animals looking for their forever homes.

The Salmon Are Running!

Salmon don't have feet and can't run like people do. When salmon swim upstream from the ocean in the late summer and fall, it is called running.

A Salmon's Life Puzzle

Cut out each of the puzzle pieces and put them together to show the life cycle of a salmon.

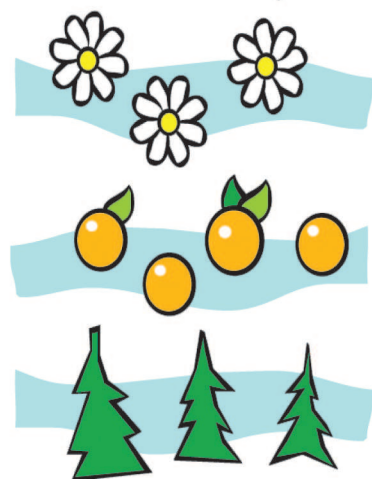

1. The female salmon digs a nest in the gravel of a river bed and lays eggs. Eggs that are well covered with gravel are less likely to be eaten.
2. The eggs hatch. At this stage they are called alevin. They stay in the gravel for safety and are nourished by their yolk sacs.
3. Once the yolk sac is used up, the little fish – now called fry – swim and eat small insects. They develop stripes on their sides that help to camouflage them.
4. When the fish get larger, they swim to the ocean. They swim at night and hide during the day.
5. They live in the ocean and grow into adults, eating herring and anchovies.
6. They return to the stream where they hatched. The females lay thousands of eggs in the gravel and the males fertilize them. This is called spawning. After spawning, the adults die.

Standards Link: Life Science: Sequential stages of life cycles are different for different animals.

Another Salmon Puzzle

Salmon live in the ocean for between one to seven years, depending on the species, before returning to their birthplace to spawn. Some travel thousands of miles before returning to the place where they hatched to continue the life cycle.

No one knows for sure how salmon find the stream where they hatched. Some scientists think that each stream or river has a special odor. Salmon may smell their way to the place where they hatched.

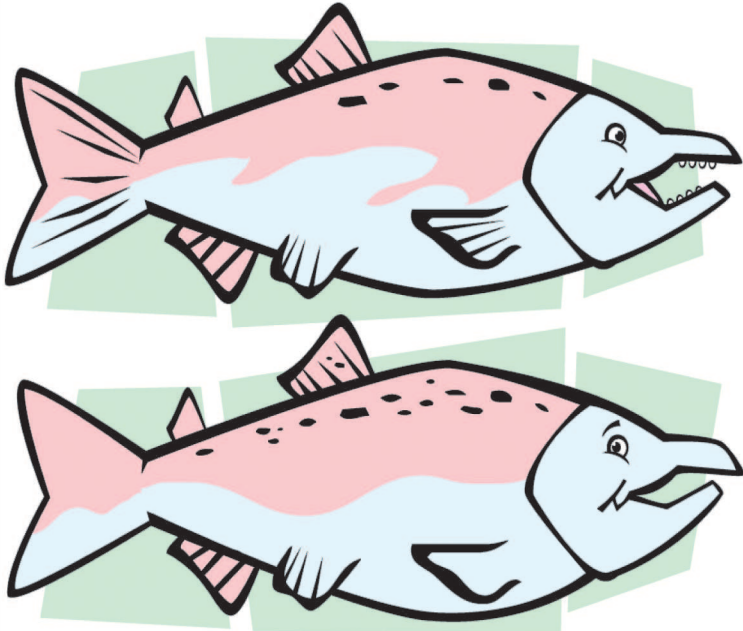

Unscramble the word on each salmon. Match each to the stream with the same "smell."

Standards Link: Reading Comprehension: Follow simple written instructions. Life Science: Animals have structures that serve different functions.

The Diamond Krewe of Olympus announces Royalty

SEA COAST ECHO

It was the night of September 29 in the Emerald ballroom, and anticipation ran high in the Krewe of Olympus. Who will it be? Who's our royalty for this year? Opinions were exchanged, everyone was sure they knew...Talk about keeping a secret! Olympus Krewe President Betty Maxwell and Royalty Chair Josette Grace had made the decision and they were NOT Talking!!

The moment finally arrived, heralded by three trumpet blasts and the song "If Ever I Should Cease to Love" provided by music maestro Doug Maxwell. It is the music used by all the Krewes to alert us that our royalty is here! The new king, Kurt Braun, marched in with his queen, Jeanne Hawkins, on his arm. Apollo David Motz and Aphrodite Candy Motz followed, all smiling ear to ear. Great choices!

Speaking of great choices-the dinner was exceptional, thanks to Josette, who met with Chef Eli and chose our menu. We started with a Capri salad, followed by an exquisitely prepared Chateau Briand, wild rice pilaf, summer vegetable medley, and the dessert!! One of the best I've eaten at the club! Baked fudge ice cream pie topped with chocolate syrup, all calories removed by our thoughtful Eli...

We wiped off the drool and headed for the dance floor. The Regulators provided the music, and they are wonderful, bluesy, jazzy, all skilled musicians. What fun! The number of guests on the dance floor attested to their skill.

Betty and Josette were also responsible for the table decorations, which were candles and flowers, but NOT arranged in the usual way. A long-stemmed rose was submerged in a tall, cylindrical vase, topped with a floating round candle. Those two are real treasures.

Speaking of treasures, Doug Maxwell and Bobby Emory hauled in the two big columns that flanked the stage as well as materials needed for the decorations. All of their efforts added immensely to this memorable evening. Olympus is a small krewe with a diverse membership. We pride ourselves in being different in a classy, creative way. It's like a big family, except that we all get along! If you'd like to join us, there are still openings available. Call Mary Alice Sierveld, Membership Chair, at 363-1923, for more information.

WHAT SEED ARE YOU PLANTING?

BY GARY ANDREWS
GARY@GADEVOTIONALS.COM

One of the best examples of honesty I have heard of came from a story of a very successful man that had built his company to be a top notch business. During his years of success he accomplished tremendous growth and was able to hire many young executives to further his business. The time came when the highly touted CEO decided to step down and called in several of his junior executives and told them that one of them would succeed him. He told them that he had one test for them and gave each one of them a seed. He told them to plant the seed, water it, care for it, and at the end of one year he would judge each one of them on what they had grown. Of all the junior executives only one of them had trouble getting his seed to produce anything. For the entire year he nurtured his seed through careful watering, proper sunlight, good potting soil, but no results as a growing plant. He would often hear the other young execs talking about their plant and how it was growing and how pretty it was. The young exec that had no plant became very anxious because he wasn't able to produce. He knew he would be fired and all of his peers would make fun of him because of his failure. Many of us are like this young exec. We start looking for results on what we sew and if in a given time the results haven't matured, we become agitated, stressed out, or go into depression. We try to make things happen on our time and forget that we are not in charge. All of us try to make a future for ourselves through our planning and actions and not going to our knees and talking with the Lord about it. We need to keep in mind what 1 John 3:2

tells us; "Beloved, now we are children of God; and it has not yet been revealed what we shall be, but we know that when He is revealed, we shall be like Him, for we shall see Him as He is." Each day we should strive to be as our Lord and Savior would be. Even though we work extremely hard to accomplish great things on earth, this is not our final destination. The young exec, after conferring with his wife and through her encouragement, decided to bring his empty pot to the meeting. He came in and there were many flowering, beautiful plants. The older, wiser CEO walks into the meeting and sees all of the plants, and smiles. He then sees the young exec with his empty pot trying to hide in the back of the room. He singles him out and calls him to the front. The young exec knows that this is the final straw for him and becomes very stressed as to what he thinks is going to happen. To his great surprise he is named the new CEO of the company because of his honesty. The older CEO tells the group that this young man did exactly what he was told and he was the only one. Then he tells them that he gave each one of them a boiled seed and there was no way any of them would produce into a plant. He stated that only this young exec was honest enough to do what he was told and then bring his pot back to him. All of the others had gone and replaced their seeds with good ones because they wanted to show off what they could do instead of doing what they were told and being honest in their findings.

SEA COAST ECHO

The Bay-Waveland School District has brought back phonics lessons to improve the reading skills of students in kindergarten through third grade. The daily lessons build on language skills based on the visual, auditory and tactile senses.

The Saxon Phonics program was rolled out at the start of the new school year, according to Dr. Sandra Reed, Bay-Waveland superintendent. The decision to reinstate the phonics lessons was based on state testing results, said Nicole Menotti, the district's director of curriculum and instruction.

Waveland Elementary School kindergarten teacher Robin Craft said the lessons focus on one letter at a time and include fun activities and videos the children enjoy while learning. "It's remarkable, and so effective. I see them build words from sounds and they love it. It's back to the basics."

Waveland Elementary first grade teacher Danielle Adam said the lessons include such tools as picture cards to help with visual learning. "Students start by learning a letter sound, then they read the whole word and then build on that to read sentences," she said.

Bay Middle School's librarian Emily Swayze and eighth grade science teacher GiGi Wheeler, whose children attend Waveland Elementary, saw the benefits from the phonics program almost immediately.

Swayze said her daughter Charlotte, a kindergarten, "is already working on spelling and is able to read simple sentences," even before the first nine weeks of school is complete. "It's amazing," she said.

Wheeler said her first grader, Damian, learned how to blend sounds quickly in phonics class. "One night we sat down with a book and he just started reading. In that little time, he just started reading," she said.

Pass Christian Family Shows Appreciation to First Responders

Students at Pass Christian Middle School truly care about the service men and women who work to protect and serve our coastal communities. 7th and 8th grade students at PCMS, Ariana and Makayla Crimm are a perfect example of this. This week, these two students, along with the help of their mother, Barbara Whavers, sent a message of appreciation to first responders from Pass Christian and Long Beach police and fire departments by presenting them with a special gift. The young ladies handcrafted special ornaments and presented them to these hardworking members of our communities.
